KHON KAEN - SO MUCH MORE TO SEE...

Khon Kaen ... the capital of Thailand's northeast plateau which has prospered for more than two centuries. It is the land where Dinosaur fossils were found in the highlands dating back to the Jurassic period. The pre-historic paintings still remain on cave walls where a million bats can be found flying at dusk, and excavations can be explored dating back to 3,000 year old civilisations.

Spend a day hearing the stories of lintels in one of the Khmer Empire's ruins, or travel through the paddy fields and admire the Buddhist history and mural paintings in the temples, before watching the spectacular sunset at the Ubolrat reservoir.

Khon Kaen ... a destination to be discovered - where dreams become a reality.
